TRACTION PARK TO SEE THE SUNDAY AFTER NEXT

That's the Day on Which Elks and Knights of Columbus Come Together in Their Ball Game; Serious Affair.

June 21. Paste that date in your hat, it is the day on which the Elks will meet the Knights of Columbus on the diamond at Traction park. Having practiced to a point where eaching feels that it is full and ample qualified to whale the eternal stuffing out of the other, the able managers got together yesterday and agreed on a date for mutual assault.

It is to be a game to a finish and all offers of mediation will be rejected.

Umpires will be tolerated if concession is custom, but if they interfere they will be executed without benefit of clergy.

The gines will be out to play ball and not to be bothered with technicalities. Everybody has been practicing batting and the horseshoe is slated for a matting that will go down in history.

Now don't go getting the notion that this game is to be a joke. Take a look at the gladiators in practice and you'll realize how serious the affair is going to be. The players will go into action prepared to break legs or a contract to win.

The Elks were out yesterday afternoon for diligent practice—two full squads of them. They played to a 1 to 1 tie, which shows how delicately balanced their machine is. Anybody can step into anybody else's place and play just as well. Huh? A knock?

No sir! Praise—outspoken admiration.

The Knights of Columbus will be out this afternoon on Hopewell field, and to save space and composition it is announced in advance that the tolling athletes will disclose increased strength in every department. Bound to, Nina is powerful now, but means to be more so, and will stand on its rights under the constitution and deny anyone to plug the uplift.

Now don't you let the day slip your mind June 21. You have an appointment to be at Traction park that afternoon.

FLOYD DETERMINED TO WIN FROM CONGO KID

Says He Will Never Don Glove Again Is He Doesn't; Tonight's Card at New Mexico A. C. a Corker.

The stage is all set for the soiree at the New Mexican A. C. gymnasium tonight. Four rattling bouts are on the card prepared by Director Mark Levy, the headlining event being a scheduled ten-round go between Lefty Floyd and the Congo Kid.

Lefty and the Kid finished up training yesterday, and they are prepared for strenuous going from the top of the gong.

Floyd has announced that he will never put on a glove again if he fails to win. Mrs. Lefty Floyd will be there to watch him, which may explain why Lefty is so set on winning.

Tatt and Wilson, heavyweights, will be the semi-windup entertainers. Wilson is six feet tall and his reach balances ten pounds, as evidenced by Tatt, who will tip the scales at 185.

Patty Kline will go up against Max Chavez and Young Flynn will meet Manuel Chavez in the other two numbers. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock.

A Unique Uniform.

A band had been formed at a Western normal school, and as is frequent in such cases, there was not enough money at first for complete uniforms. However, the following notice in the school paper created quite a sensation:

The Normal School band uniforms will consist of a cap and coat at first, with the probable addition of trousers at a later date.
